Honorable Justice,

We can notice from the lifestyle of those working in Microsoft and we know that they have this absence of fear, a god-like stand, knowing and is assured that MICROSOFT, above all, will withstand the brunt of the wheels of justice running them over.

If you can see, even in our tiny island here in Asia, we can feel how Microsoft is controlling the market of system integration. You must be a "big fish" or a "big player" before they can deal with you, in terms of the licensing fees. If not for this issues, we could have developed an embedded device using WinCE as OS. However, due to the license fee, we moved into Linux and other OS conceivable without paying the high price.

Well, let the voice of the people decide on the fate of the Giant. Will we allow them to continue living at an extravagant lifestyle at our own expense?

Thank you.

From a small voice,
